Shopping

Competitive Ringgit Exchange rates and a wide variety of duty-free goods have made Malaysia a shopper's paradise. There are modern air-conditioned shopping complexes within the city where large department stores are located. Price tagging is mandatory and prices are prominently displayed. For the adventurous type, go for the enthralling experience of bargaining with roadside hawkers, especially those at the "Pasar Malam" (Night Market), in Chinatown which is open every night, or at Jalan Tuanka Abdul Rahman on Saturday nights.

Handycrafts, woodcarvings, silvercraft, batik printing, songket-weaving, bamboo-weaving and pottery are just some of the excellent purchases to take home.
